Excerpt from The Undiscovered Country: The Seventy-Fourth Anniversary Address Before the American Colonization Society; Delivered in the Church of the Epiphany, Washington, D. C., January 18th, 1891 It was no wonder that good men hesitated to set their slaves free when such was the outlook. It need not puzzle us when we find that the slaves themselves were so apathetic. Freedom, as they saw it, had few attractions. They preferred to bear those ills they had than ee to others that they knew not of. It was this state of affairs which made the Colonization Society a blessing to the country. It provided an asylum for the freed man, and it encouraged the doubtful to take the heroic plunge of freeing their slaves. When true freedom came there was no apathy. When the blacks understood that life was before them to make or mar, exactly as it had been for their masters when the roving instinct of the savage, so long repressed by the patrol, was given scope, they rose as gladly as any people and rejoiced in the treasure they...
